

“Peace is not a state that simply arises all of a sudden. Peace is a choice – made by every single person – and it will spread to all countries. Because we are all peace.”

– Christina von Dreien

WE ARE PEACE

A call to all brothers and sisters of the light
from Christina von Dreien

WE ARE PEACE

There has never been so much division on this Earth as there is now – in every area of life, between all sections of the population, between men and women and within families. Never before has all this been promoted as it is now, with the support of the media across the board.

Have you ever asked yourself: Why? What are the forces behind this?

Division, violence and war can only continue to exist for as long as enough people either actively agree with these things or feel so powerless that they cannot muster the strength to choose something different.

It is time for us to remember our creative power once more!

It is only through the use of our collective power, as humanity, that negative things take place. And only by using our power for good can we put an end to this negativity. It's up to each and every one of us.

It would be possible for every dispute to be resolved peacefully if all parties involved were open to a peaceful solution. But even if not everyone involved is open to it, YOU can still choose peace and understanding. What you choose is your responsibility.

It is therefore important to remind yourself that you want peace and that you want to be happy – just like everyone else on this Earth.

Peace begins within you. It is a choice you can make NOW: “I want peace within myself, in my immediate environment and wherever I am able to have an influence right now.”

If enough people make this choice over and over again, the collective field of consciousness will change accordingly.

We are all different, but originally every soul came from the same loving source. When you remember this love, you regain understanding and compassion for others. You can and should, of course, distance yourself from everything that is harmful, manipulative and does you no good. Because love does not mean that you have to say yes to everything.

Love means seeing the good in others, even if you may not like what they do. Distance yourself from their actions – your heart can still remain open to that other person. Send them love and blessings.

Remind yourself that we all come from the same source.

Remind yourself of what is most important to you: happiness and peace!

Remind yourself of your true task on this Earth: to strengthen the light and love within you and bring it into the world.

There are so many of us here on the Earth who carry this task within us of being peace! And every day, more and more people are remembering.

Spread this flyer everywhere. It is a wake-up call!

How YOU can contribute to peace now:

- 1.) Say yes to your life. It is an honour to be here as a human being.
- 2.) Instead of seeking your truth in the outer world, seek it within. Allow yourself plenty of time in which to be still.

- 3.) Feel your heart and live it, follow the impulse of your heart. Your heart guides you in the truth of the moment to where it is right for you now.
- 4.) Realize that every act of peace, no matter how small, is woven into a global energy field. This is how you can make a direct contribution to world peace.
- 5.) Be aware that everything you send out will fall back on you.
- 6.) See all your fellow human beings as your sisters and brothers – regardless of their skin colour, nationality, religion or views. We all come from the same loving source of creation.
- 7.) Do not resonate with actions not based on light such as division, judgement, hatred, violence and war.
- 8.) Find out what is currently happening in the world. Research independently in the most unprejudiced media possible and use your powers of discernment. Then focus on positive things: Go out into nature, read uplifting texts, socialise with people who do you good, and do things that bring you joy and keep your consciousness high . . . and so on.
- 9.) Do not harm any living being by either thought, word or deed.
- 10.) Choose inner peace and peace in the world – over and over again. If you fall out of it, simply start once more.
- 11.) Remind yourself of your immense creative power and that you are a divine being, created by a loving source. That is your true greatness and your true value.
- 12.) No matter what has happened in your life, what you have experienced and endured and whether you are currently feeling anger or rejection: You can choose love NOW. It brings healing into your personal life and into everything that exists on the Earth.

Know that every day there are more and more of us actively sending love and light into the field and that we will succeed together. In the end, all will be well. That is irrevocable.
